Time is money in Los Angeles

“Working in Los Angeles, many of our patients simply don’t have time for a prolonged recovery,” says Dr. Svehlak, who specializes in both surgical and nonsurgical cosmetic procedures. “They need to look good. Fast.” Dr. Daniel Yamini, partner at Sunset Cosmetic Surgery and double board-certified surgeon, adds that while Botox® and facial fillers are popular choices for patients on the go, many surgical procedures can be done in the office using local anesthesia. “A targeted procedure using local anesthesia gives patients the option of a shortened recovery period,” says Dr. Yamini. Procedures that are often done in their office using local anesthesia include chin implants, eyelid surgery, ear surgery, Mini Sculpt (targeted small-area liposuction), liposuction revisions, lip lifts and reductions, minor rhinoplasties, belly button enhancements as well as scar revisions from C-sections or poorly healed tummy tucks.

STEVEN SVEHLAK, MD, FACS
Dr. Svehlak performed outpatient (no general anesthesia) liposculpting on this 34-year-old patient, also known as Mini Sculpt. Small amounts of fat were gently removed from strategic areas, including her waist, flanks, abdomen and thighs to achieve a flatter stomach, tighter waistline and a more toned look.

DANIEL YAMINI, MD, FACS
Dr. Yamini performed a Mommy Makeover on this 51-year-old patient that included a circumareolar breast lift with 304 cc silicone implants, a mini tummy tuck and minimal liposculpting of the abdomen. The after photos were taken four months post-operatively.

“the look you’ve always wanted might be closer than you think”
